SUMMER 2025 - Digital Edition

2026 Township Budget Developments

work has begun on the development of the 2026 Warrington Township budget which will begin on January I, 2026. The good news about our budget is we continue to end each budget year with expenditures less than revenues, and we are delivering services in the most efficient manner possible. Every expense is scrutinized to ensure that it is necessary and at the best value possible.

However, we are facing growing challenges that can no longer be ignored or passed along for others to address in the future. The two main challenges are the financial and manpower sustainability of the Wellsville Fire Company at a level that is necessary and appropriate to ensure adequate fire and rescue services for township residents and the need to make significant repairs to our roadways and bridges. These two critical services are becoming more challenging to fund without finding new sources of revenue, which means the Board of Supervisors must consider raising our real estate millage rate. We simply cannot continue to find ways to cut existing expenditures to meet these two critical needs without jeopardizing services such as snow and ice removal, roadway maintenance, and other vital services.

How did we get in this position where we are facing these challenges?

- The township has not had a tax increase in a very long time. In fact, our millage rate (0.21 mills) has essentially not changed since at least 1969, that's over a half century ago! Costs to run a township government have certainly increased over the past 56 years.
- The costs of continuing to sustain the Wellsville Fire Company through fundraising and occasional grants and the lack of volunteers make it difficult to ensure timely responses to emergencies.
- Our roads and bridges are aging and deteriorating. If we do not begin to address these needs on a larger scale, projects will become more difficult and expensive.

- The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (Pinchot State Park & State Game Lands 242) owns about 8% of the land in this township and pays $0 dollars in taxes, but the fire company must provide services, and the township must take care of the roadways that serve these areas.
- We deliberately want to remain rural and manage growth. New growth brings in tax revenue (usually not enough to serve the new growth and requires even more expensive township services), and growth is counter to our comprehensive plan and ordinances.
- Our main source of revenue is the Earned Income Tax; the local tax withheld from your paycheck. Our Township residents are aging, and retirement income in Pennsylvania is not subject to paying a local earned income tax.
- The need to continue having at least one year's budget balance of funds for emergencies. This money is set aside to address costs associated with unplanned costs such as flood damage. Look recently at places in Lancaster County where roadways and bridges were destroyed by flooding. We need to be prepared for these events. We do not want to begin spending our emergency funds just for the sake of avoiding making tough and unpopular financial decisions.

No one likes to consider raising taxes or paying them. If the Board of Supervisors do increase the real estate millage, please be assured it will be kept to the level necessary. Controls are and will be in place to ensure efficiency, accountability and used for the intended purposes of fire and rescue services and repairing our roadways and bridges.

These budget discussions will continue between now and November when the 2026 budget is due. All discussions will be held during regular Board of Supervisors meetings and advertised budget workshops. You will find these dates on our website, or you can call the office at (717)432-9082.

History of Warrington Township

Warrington Township is a township in York County, Pennsylvania United States. It was erected by the authority of the Lancaster County courts in 1744 from neighboring townships. Many of the township's earliest settlers were of English heritage, immigrating to the township from Lancashire, England. The township's name derives from an English town of a similar name. In 1783, Warrington Township, which geographically included Washington Township, had 173 houses and 11 mills.

York County Mosquito Control

On a regular basis, toss items that hold water and are no longer used, such as old tires. buckets, and broken items.

York County Mosquito Control Division routinely samples mosquitoes collected throughout the County and tests for West Nile Virus. Mosquito Control also conducts a comprehensive larvacide and spray program during the season that mosquitoes are most active, from late spring to early fall. Recent tests conducted in York County have produced positive West Nile Virus results. At this time, Mosquito Control is not aware of reported cases of West Nile Virus in humans or animals in York County. The County plans to continue testing and spraying efforts. Mosquito Control recommends the use of insect repellent and long sleeves/pants to cover exposed skin. It is important for residents and businesses to regularly tip any standing water on their property, especially in containers such as tires, flower pots, tarps, toys, and bird baths. Mosquitoes grow in water, so reducing the mosquito population is done by removing the breeding habitat.

Burning plastic can affect air quality, public health

Burning Plastic? Think Again...

Burning plastic releases carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases, contributing to global warming and climate change. Given the urgent need to reduce our carbon footprint, burning plastic is a step in the wrong direction. Plastic is made from non-renewable resources like oil and natural gas.

While burning plastic may seem like an easy fix to reduce waste, the long-term effects can be severe—both for your health and the planet. By understanding the environmental, health, and economic consequences, we can make more informed decisions when it comes to handling plastic waste. Next time you think about burning a piece of plastic, consider the alternatives. Whether it's recycling, reducing, or proper disposal, every small action can make a difference in the fight against plastic pollution.

Burning plastic may seem like a quick solution, but its impacts can linger for years, affecting not just the air we breathe but the land, water, and health of those we love.
