Town of Louisa, VA—Declaration of Local Emergency January 23, 2026

As per State of Virginia Statute § 44-146.21, “Declaration of local emergency,” as Town Director of Emergency Management, I hereby declare that a local emergency will exist in the Town of Louisa, Virginia, beginning at 5PM Saturday January 24, 2026.

The declaration is due to expected severe Winter weather conditions, including but not limited to snow, freezing rain, ice and an extended period of sub-normal freezing temperatures, impacting significantly public health, safety and welfare.

The declaration will continue until such time as the severe weather event concludes and weather conditions return to normal, at which time the declaration will conclude.

Citizens are advised to plan for safety to include water, heat, light and food, and to pay attention to Town and County announcements, which can be found at the Town website and social media locations.
